Lauren Barwick is one of Canada's most successful equestrian athletes. A three-time Paralympian, she has won more medals at major games than any other Canadian rider to date. Her most exceptional results came at the 2008 Beijing Paralympics, where she earned individual gold and silver medals. Barwick also brought home Canada's only medals from the 2014 FEI World Equestrian Games after earning individual silver and bronze.

In light of her incredible success, Barwick was inducted into the Canadian Disability Hall of Fame in 2015.

Barwick has had a remarkable season in 2016. After partnering with a new mount, Onyx, she competed at the prestigious Adequan Global Dressage Festival (AGDF) CPEDI 3* series in Wellington, FL, earning second place every time out, for a total of six second-place finishes.

Prior to becoming a para-dressage athlete, Barwick was a professional stuntwoman in the film industry, specializing in horsemanship. In 2011, she guest starred as a former rodeo star on the Canadian television show, Heartland.
